In Fashion Now

There is a fullness about the new clothes, especially in wool dresses with jackets. Some of the skirts are pleated and, needless to say, it takes a slim person to wear one of the bulky costumes to any advantage.

Pleats in wool have always been a problem to keep in shape, but we hear there is a new process now that puts permanent pleats in woolen skirts. This process was developed in Australia, where wool is so important.

Over - blouses continue to be big news. Not only in knits, but in silks, cottons and wools. Some of the over-blouses for suits are practically tunics.

Suits, by the way, are being shown with longer jackets — many of them belled or worn with a sash. Scarves instead of collars complement many of the suits and coats.

Play safe — drive carefully.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Whitey's a Man With Both Feet on the Ground

Whitey Fisher and his missus got back from their first European vacation the other day. But before they left, Mrs. Fisher tells us, Whitey had some pretty strong feeling about their transportation—a new jet plane.

"Should go by boat," Whitey complained as they boarded the jet. When they were seated Whitey murmured, "I'll get air-sick on this thing for sure."

And a few minutes later, he added, "Course I'm all right now, but wait until we take off." Just then the pilot announced, "Folks, we're now cruising at an altitude of 26,000 feet!"

From where I sit, sometimes we all jump to conclusions without knowing the facts. For instance, some people are like that about my favorite beverage—beer. They insist that coffee or tea goes best at dinnertime, when actually it's a matter of choice. We ought to be tolerant—and know before we take off on our opinions.
